Callie	Floyd	Autism	The dense crowds and enouous amounts of noise in such small spaces (church lobbies, etc.) are very over-stimulating. Most especially however it is all the yelling: not hateful or malicious yelling, but people serving as registration personnel, monitors, and performing the other jobs constantly having to yell back and forth to communicate; to call to the people in line; to call people back who have moved on to the next desk. It is like being stabbed in both ears at once and elicits a significant fear response.	As more and more people register to vote, the most simple solution I see is two-fold: make voting by mail the norm and move polling locations into larger spaces. For my district as an example, for decades we have gone into a small church anteroom to vote—but there is a full sized former grocery store sitting empty with ample parking 0.8 miles away.	Continue to fight for the broadly more-accessible option of absentee voting by making it easy to obtain and complete. And look into considering asking election officials to be open to getting creative with changing polling locations with an eye towards providing something like six square feet per person in the structure, based on the daily averages of voters per district.
Carl	Tift	Challenge of having to wait for preparation of ballot marking devices or some even lacking which makes voting difficult as I can't vote without those devices	The whole process becomes tiresome and in some cases we end up not voting if the devices are not ready or within our reach	simplification of the voting process by having things which are a requirement in order before voting day. 		Ballot is inaccessible. I am a Blind Georgia voter and due to the voting process being based on my ability to read and review my ballot with no accessibility features built into the voting machine, I am locked out of the voting securely and independently piece of the process. I am also unable to request, complete or ensure that I have confidently completed all of the steps. I have to have help throughout the entire process here in Georgia which, is a violation of Title II of the ADA Act.	First of all, voting should be an independent and secure process. While I am an educated voter, my ability to cast my vote is dependent on me having someone to assist me with voting. The individual may not have the same candidate/issue perspective as I do. I need to vote, review and privately verify my ballot. I need to be able to privately request, fill out and return my absentee ballot confidently. While I am a trusting individual, I deserve the right to control my own destiny.	Make the process a totally nonvisual experience or, simply put an Ipad at each voting line with a voice scanner which would read the voter's choices to him. After which, the ballot is reviewed and I can confidently place my vote into the hopper. I feel that the absentee ballot process should be totally nonvisual in nature. This could be done electronically as we data that shows this.	Take it to the Justice Department as it is in violation of Title II on the ADA and, a violation of my civil rights.

Jessica (A)	Chatham	Voting Barriers: In addition to the Georgia Secretary of State's website not being 508 compliant. The Georgia state Voter registration is not printed in large print for those with visual and motor skill impairment . This means that the writing a texts on the document is to small Due to the text being too small on the page it may be to small for Georgia with visual and motor skill impairments to see and place information in the right areas on the forms	This is a barrier because due to the fact that the process voter registration and absentee ballot request is based on having the right information by not having these forms in large print people and having enough room on the page it does not give people with disabilities who have motor and writing disabilities the ability to confidently, adequately fill their form out with the proper address, name and other important information	Solution; If state would require that all voters' registration and absentee ballots print out forms would be in large print alternate formats such as zoom text then it would be universally designed for Georgians who are elder seniors and disabled	Proposed Recommendation; An executive Order , Under Section 508 it states that all federal and state documents if used on a website must be accessible using technology, This is the law , Another thing that one can consider is those that don't have access to computer, all written texts and literature regarding the voting process can and must be available in large print so that people with disabilities will be more able to write on the form and read it on a screen reader.
Jessica (A)	Chatham	Under the New election law Georgians have to submit two forms of id or have two copies of identification to request and return your absentee ballot	The reason for this is because Many Georgians with disabilities do not and cannot afford technology such as computers, scanners and photocopiers to be able to submit the amount of documentation needed for absentee ballots. As a result of this Georgians with disabilities who wish to vote have to go through the struggle of trying to find the money to afford transportation and go pay for the copies.	Solution: Making all Nationwide Election Board , photocopies faxes and scanners available for public use by all Georgian s and people with disabilities in order that they may take care of requesting an absentee ballot or request for identification	Making it a requirement that if a person who is low income and disabled is trying to provide a copy of their identification for the said purpose of requesting and returning absentee ballot or voter registration form all elections board printer faxes and scanners should be available for public use
Jessica (B)	Chatham	Voting Barrier: Long voting lines discourage most voters from taking time to vote. They especially discourage the millions of people whose chronic conditions make it difficult to stand for long periods of time.	Why this is a Barrier: Standing in voting lines for longer than 20 minutes causes debilitating swelling among those of us who have Edema. Without a chair for relief and food and water for my medications I and millions of eligible voters are putting our health at risk to stand in long voting lines.	Solution: Short voting lines with chairs and access to water and food without losing our place in line will allow people with Edema to vote without compromising our health.	Setting a limit on how long voting lines are allowed to be in each voting precinct is a reasonable ADA accommodation. Also, allowing chairs, water and food to be taken to voters is another reasonable way to fulfill the ADA for voters like me.

Gaylon (A)	Richmond	Voting Barrier: Georgia's official Secretary of State's voter website does not work for blind voters. This means that people in Georgia who are blind cannot find out about our registration/voter status or where we can vote.	Why this is a barrier: Voter information websites that are difficult to navigate discourage voting among blind voters as well as potential voters with limited literacy, limited digital literacy and/or limited understanding of the voting process.	Solution: If states were required to meet usability standards, voting tools would be more accessible for everyone.	Proposed recommendation: An Executive Order extending Section 508 requirements (currently limited to Federal level) to state and local governments. Section 508 currently requires that the federal government procure, create, use and maintain Information and Communication Technology (ICT) that is accessible to people with disabilities, regardless of whether or not they work for the federal government.
		Voting Barrier: We, as blind people lose our right to privacy when we vote by absentee ballots. Because current absentee voting tools are not adaptive to people who are blind, we must depend on someone to assist us.	Why this is a Barrier: People who are blind must give up our right to privacy when we are dependent on others to help us use absentee voting tools. Voters with limited literacy, English skills and/or limited time to vote also face voting barriers when the voting tools available to them are difficult to navigate and understand.	Solution: Absentee voting tools, following usability standards, will allow all eligible voters, including blind voters, to vote independently	Proposed Recommendation: Extend Section 508 requirements to state and local governments. This would obligate SOS in each state to build user-centered voting tools that are designed to make absentee voting easy for all potential voters who may struggle with the absentee voting process.
Gaylon (B)	Richmond	In-Person Voting Voting barrier: People who are blind can never be sure the votes we cast are the votes recorded because current voting machines fail to offer verification tools that work for us.	Why this is a barrier: Lack of faith in the voting process discourages people from voting.	Solution: Adapt voting machines to meet usability standards to grant all voters more confidence in the voting process	Proposed recommendation: Require Section 508 compliant digital tools at voting stations, including verification tools that have scanning and audio capability.
